

Please do not relax the broadcast media ownership rules on June 2, 2003.
In order for a democracy to function properly, the public must have access to information from diverse sources. Further consolidation of media ownership will undermine the American people's right to hear and read a variety of viewpoints, as well as restricting our access to local news. Vote no. The airwaves belong to the people. Thank you.